

READY TO GIVE ON OPENING DAY OF TRIPLE DRIVE

Start of Campaign Yesterday In Phoenix and Maricopa County Finds All Prepared to Reply to Appeal

"The first day of the great triple drive for relief of the war stricken people of eastern Europe and western Asia, indicating that the people of Phoenix and Maricopa county, at least, are going to maintain their record of generous giving," said Sidney J. Ross, county chairman of the United drive for relief in the Near East at the close of business last night.

Headquarters for the Spanish speaking population have been opened at 62 South Third street, with J. B. Bica, C. R. Dominguez and Mrs. Clara Emerson as the committee in charge and are rapidly getting things in shape for a whirlwind campaign. The woman's committee with Mrs. Thomas E. Campbell as chairman, is directing its efforts toward the black unit campaign, and reports received at a late hour yesterday were very encouraging.

Employers Can Aid
City chairman Wallace E. Button reports favorable progress made by his workers who are canvassing the business district. "In a campaign of this kind," he said, "some places are bound to be overlooked and we urge upon anyone not reached by the workers to call at Room 1, War Work building, with their subscriptions."

"The managers of business and manufacturing establishments are in a position to assist us very materially by personally interviewing the employees, thus co-operating with our solicitors when they call. Much more satisfactory results are obtained when this method is followed. The ordinary selfish man or wage earner, we are suggesting, should be willing to donate at least one day's pay to this worthy cause."

"That the school districts of Madison, Linn, Union, Roosevelt and Lawrence stand in danger of being black spots on the organization map of the united drive for relief in the Near East," was the declaration last night of County Chairman, Sidney J. Ross.

The Maricopa county organization has been perfected with the exception of these four districts. Efforts have been made to secure chairmen but so far we have not met with success," said Ross. "And rather than have these districts remain unrepresented I hope some of the good people of those communities will get together, form a committee into a committee, appoint a chairman, then get in touch with me at Room 1, War Work building, Phoenix, so that the county of Maricopa may have every section represented in this great work which aims to rehabilitate and succor oppressed Christians of the Near East."

The revised list of chairmen of the various districts is as follows:
Maricopa, Mrs. Frank Parker; Riverside, R. T. Anderson; Bala, John T. Jackson; Tempe district, including Peoria, Robbing and Rural, Rev. H. R. Roundtree; Mesa district, including Alma, Jordan and Lehi, Dan Kleinman; Chandler, J. W. Eyer; Wickenburg, L. V. Whitson; Peoria district, including Maricopa, J. M. Hall; Coolidge, W. T. Wilson; Gilbert, C. D. Cartwright; Phoenix, James Willis; Glendale, including Ponderosa, Independence and Alhambra, Rev. F. H. Gilmore; Scottsdale, Charles Miller; Chandler, C. A. Babin; Cashion, M. H. McCalla; Gila Bend, Dr. Richards; Buckeye district, including Liberty, Palo Verde and Arlington, R. E. Ryan; Gilbert, Mrs. Tom Schultz; Mesquite, Harry Cox.

MAY DEVELOP STRIP AS RESULT OF VISIT OF UTAH DELEGATES

Without having made any headway in the matter of the announced purpose of their visit, the acquiring, by trade or purchase, that part of Arizona north of the Grand Canyon, the Utah delegation left Phoenix last night on the return trip to Salt Lake City.

But the delegates from Utah did accomplish one thing, they made the people of Arizona acquainted with the part of their own state, to a degree that will arouse interest and discussion covering this neglected territory which probably will have the result of hastening the development of that section.

"The visit of the Utah delegation will undoubtedly have a good effect," said Governor Campbell yesterday. "If Utah thinks so highly of the strip that she was willing to both buy and develop it, then Arizona surely can do no less than develop this section by building roads to give access to it."

On Sunday, the governor took the Utah delegates, G. P. McGonagle and W. A. Ivins, for a 40-mile trip around the valley. Yesterday the delegates were entertained at luncheon at the Hotel Adams by Governor Campbell. The guests, besides the Utah delegates, were A. C. Peterson, speaker of the house; W. A. Moyer, state land commissioner; A. A. Johns, president of the senate; Senator Campbell and Representative Harrows.

Informal discussion of the problems connected with the strip brought out some interesting facts, but emphasized the fact that this section is really undeveloped, so far as its possible resources and chances for development are concerned. Utah is anxious to have a road built through and a bridge across the Colorado, so that they can trade with this state.

Engineer McGonagle urges a road down the Grand Wash, and a bridge across at the point where the wash runs into the Colorado. Others advocate making suitable approaches to the existing ferry up near the Utah line, and a third group favor an attempt to bridge the canyon at Diamond Creek, above Peach Springs.

Governor Campbell favored a thorough investigation this year by a party made up of engineers, mining and agricultural experts, timbermen and others, so that the possibilities of the section and the practicability of the proposed roads might be determined before the state spends money to build a bridge that might not lead to practical outlets.

In order to assure the state of the proper collection of taxes and to enable the proper enforcement of the law, both state and federal, it was proposed to make a county of the strip, which is now part of Mohave and Coconino counties. The objection that there are too few people is met by the fact that Utah has one county with only 400 inhabitants, where the officials serve either without pay or for merely nominal salaries.

Messrs. McGonagle and Ivins left for Salt Lake last night by the Santa Fe via Los Angeles, which well illustrates the present difficulties of communication between the two states.

"We have been shown the finest type of hospitality, the Arizona brand," said Mr. McGonagle just before leaving, and though we did not get the strip, we have, I hope and believe, stirred up a lot of interest in it that will lead to the ultimate benefit of the strip and both the states."

TO JAIL FOR DEFYING WIFE SUPPORT ORDER

Stating that he would try an order made by the court for a week and if he did not find it to his liking he would not comply with it, C. A. Castro openly defied Judge Stanford and as a result was committed behind the bars. Castro who was charged with failure to provide for his wife, appeared before Judge Stanford yesterday and was ordered to contribute $6 a week to the support of Mrs. Castro. He was not at all certain that he cared to follow the court's instruction, and frankly said so. He will remain in jail until he shows a willingness to obey orders.

UNIQUE SOUVENIR GIVEN TO GOVERNOR

A "souvenir of the great war" in the shape of a tobacco jar made from two big shell cases, was presented to Governor Thomas E. Campbell yesterday by Lieutenant E. K. Reese and Lieut. Harry Amster, both of the aerial service in France, and old friends of the governor from Jerome.

The jar is made from what appears to have been the heavy brass cases of two four-inch shells. The handle on the lid is apparently the spike from a German dress helmet, and it bears a German coat of arms, probably from the same source.

FILE SECOND SUIT IN ANTI-VICE CAMPAIGN

Martin Gold was made the defendant in the second action based on the Red Light Abatement act which was filed in the office of the clerk of the court yesterday. The first suit was directed against Kate Sabra, who is alleged to have permitted her property in China Alley to be used for the purpose of prostitution.

Gold is alleged to permit his building in Gold Alley to be used for the same purpose and the plaintiff asks that the nuisance be abated and that he be restrained from so doing.

The plaintiff in both actions is named as The People of the State of Arizona at the relation of George Brisbane, chief of police. The suits were filed by J. E. Nelson, assistant city attorney.
